The Bennett Group Takes the LEED In Sustainability

Brad Barker, a Project Coordinator in The Bennett Group Design Department was recently awarded LEED Professional Accreditation. Brad completed the rigorous credentialing program, which distinguishes him as a building professional with the knowledge and skills to successfully steward the LEED certification process.

“Sustainable design is becoming more commonplace, and it will change the way we live”, said Brad.

Brad, who earned a Bachelor of Architecture Degree from Temple University Tyler School of Art, joined the firm in 2005. As LEED accredited professionals, Brad and Vice President of Architecture Anthony Sirizzotti, bring added value to The Bennett Group and our clients.
